

SAYS CHAMBER MUST SELL SELF TO COMMUNITY

The board of directors of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce drew criticism from one of its own members, A. E. Hutchison, at its monthly meeting in the chamber's office Monday night, for what Hutchison characterized as a "failure to sell the chamber to our own members."

The criticism came up during a discussion of the forthcoming membership dinner and the entertainment program for the dinner. Mr. Hutchison argued that a full and complete report should be made to the Chamber membership at this dinner of what the Chamber is doing and what it has accomplished.

"The membership doesn't realize the work carried on by the board of directors during the year," Hutchison said. "They don't know what they got for their $25 membership. If we have a good speaker for the dinner, and someone to tell the membership of the past year's activities, we won't need any entertainment."

Several Questions

"Many persons hear that a factory has considered locating in Gettysburg, that they have contacted the Chamber of Commerce, and they wonder why the matter goes no further," Hutchison said. "Let's tell them why no factories have located here. Let's tell them that these factories want a building all ready to move into, or that they

Says Classified Ads Best Media

Harrisburg, Sept. 12 (AP)—An automobile sales official today said newspaper classified advertising is the number one media for used car and truck advertising.

"Newspaper classified advertising for used cars and trucks has several distinct advantages over other media that appeals to dealers and unquestionably causes it to be the number one form of used car advertising used," said Don C. Burdette, manager of User Car and Truck Sales for the Ford Motor company.

Burdette spoke at the final session of the two-day 1950 Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association classified advertising clinic here.

He listed advantages of newspaper classified advertising as quick scheduling, wide coverage, excellent public readership and its cost compared to other media.

Outside club meetings, 32, with attendance of 866; outside committee meetings, 12, with 71 persons attending. There was one special YWCA meeting, attended by 14 persons. Local Couple Is Observing 56th Anniversary Today

MR. AND MRS. S. E. SWOPE

A few old friends, together with a son, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren who reside here, helped Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Swope celebrate their 56th wedding anniversary today. They were the guests of Mrs. Swope at a dinner at the Swope apartment, 138 Carlisle street, this noon. The affair was in the nature of a surprise for most of the guests.

The Swopees were married on September 12, 1894, in Washington, D. C. The bride of 56 years ago was Miss Ida W. LeDane, and the ceremony was performed at the home of her parents, who had moved to Washington from Hagerstown, by the Rev. William Egan.

Two sisters and two brothers of Mrs. Swope who were present at the wedding in 1894 are living, J. W. and Harry G. LeDane, Mrs. Cora J. Kilham and Mrs. Maude Hollinger, all of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Swope met her husband while the latter was visiting friends in Washington. After their marriage the couple returned to Gettysburg. They have spent all but one year of their married life here.

Mr. Swope was employed then by the late William T. Ziegler, who operated a livery business. He assisted in guiding many parties of tourists over the battlefield. Later he entered the government employ on the battlefield, and continued in this employment for 30 years, until he retired at the age limit of 65 years.

Both In Good Health

Mr. Swope will be 83 years old next February 22, Washington's birthday, while Mrs. Swope will be 78 on Christmas Day this year. Both enjoy unusually good health for their years.

For 23 years Mr. Swope operated Rosalind park, a refreshment stand, store and tourist camp on Confederate avenue and the Water Works road, and is known to thousands of tourists who stopped there.

Mr. and Mrs. Swope have four children, 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. The children are Samuel Franklin Swope, Gettysburg; Lawrence LeDane Swope, Lewistown, Pa.; Harold Ensor Swope, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Evelyn Collins, Clearwater, Fla.

FALL MEETING OF GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL HELD

Burgess Asks Help Of Business Places

Burgess William G. Weaver has written to nine centrally-located business places in Gettysburg asking them to leave blinds open in their establishments during the nights to assist borough police in their nightly checks.

In the letter, the Burgess points out that closely drawn blinds prevent fires from being spotted and also make it impossible for patrolling officers to detect prowlers or burglars.

The cooperation of the business places is being asked to assist the borough police department in its task of safeguarding property in Gettysburg, the Burgess explains.

SAYS RUSSIA AT WAR WITH U.S. FOR 33 YEARS

"Russia has been openly at war with the United States since 1917," Capt. George Locker of the Armed Forces Information school at Carlisle Barracks, told members of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening in a talk at their weekly dinner meeting at the Shelter House.

"Our nation has never recognized or acknowledged that state of war but writings and speeches of Lenin and Stalin have stated clearly for many years the Soviet intention to communise the world," Captain Locker declared.

Asserting it is a mistake to think of Communism as the platform of a political party, Captain Locker used a series of charts to show the structure of the Soviet government and the Communist party. "At the upper levels, the officials of the Soviet government and the leaders of the Communist party are identical," the speaker pointed out, adding that such an organization makes it possible for the members of the Communist party, who represent a small minority of the Russian populace, to control Soviet affairs.

Deny "Sincere Diplomacy"

Quoting Karl Marx in a statement in which he said Communism must destroy its opposition, Captain Locker pointed out one of the distinguishing marks of a democracy is the fact that it permits a defeated minority to continue to organize and strive for victory at the next election.

The speaker described the 12 members of the Soviet politburo as the "12 most important men in the world, for they may decide how much we are going to spend for armaments, how big our taxes will be and what price we shall pay for national defense for years to come."

He cited instances of Russian "about faces" in speeches and actions and quoted a statement of Stalin as saying that "sincere diplomacy is no more possible than dry water. Good words are to be used to cloak bad deeds."

1st Cavalry Takes Peak Near Taegu; Cost Is High

By LEIF ERICKSON

Tokyo, Sept. 12 (AP)—A U.S. First Cavalry battalion captured a commanding peak eight miles north of Taegu tonight.

The troopers fought a daylong battle uphill against entrenched Red Korean troops and blistering gunfire to erase a new Red threat against Taegu.

AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth, reporting from the front, said American casualties were heavy.

Allied warplanes and artillery rocketed, bombed and blasted the entrenched Koreans before the troopers' assault.

"Main Threat" Gone

Then the foot cavalry stormed up the slopes, Red Koreans on the peak and on a nearby slope hurled blasts of artillery, mortar and machinegun fire at them.

The Americans drove two-thirds of the distance in the first five hours. Then they were pinned down most of the afternoon by Communist fire.

A regimental commander had described the Red Korean hill as "the main threat" to Taegu. Its capture gave American defenders a vital anchor on their right flank.

The Americans attacked first seven miles north of Taegu. General MacArthur's headquarters said they gained nearly one mile and secured high ground commanding the vital Taegu-Tabu road.

40,000 Reds Massed

Forty thousand Red Korean troops are massed north of the city for an expected fresh assault upon the allied northwest front anchor. The dug-in hill force was a small Red advance party.

Communist artillery roared a thunderous barrage for the third straight day, plastering the Taegu-Tabu road. One American battalion—1,000 men—spent most of Tuesday afternoon in foxholes there.

Allied big guns and warplanes, striking earlier against this barrage, had counted a heavy toll of the booming Red artillery. Such an artillery barrage usually is the prelude to an attack.

Far to the east, in the wild hill sector somewhere west of Pohang port, a secret United Nations task force led by a famous West Point football star who cannot be named yet struck swiftly to trap Red troops in a corridor deep within Allied lines.

UN Planes Set Record

South Korean forces already had sealed the northern entrance. The task force, striking close to the southern gate, punched two and one-half miles in bitter fighting against two Red battalions.

On the southwest front, counter-attacking 25th Division Americans recaptured a commanding ridge four miles south of the confluence of the Nam and Nakdong rivers in a bitter fight against numerically superior Reds. The Communists had hurled three assault waves and won the peak Monday night.

The weary Americans launched their counterattack before dawn. The hill commands one of the best crossing points along the Nam.

United Nations' planes, in close support of ground troops, flew a record number of sorties. By midnight Monday, they had gone out in 893 flights. "We really kept his (the enemy's) head down," an air spokesman said.

Club Inaugurates Series Of Parties

A party inaugurating the bi-weekly Gettysburg Country club bridge parties was held Monday evening at the local country club. For the remainder of the winter season the group will play bridge every other Tuesday on the luncheon dates of Ladies' Day at the country club, it was announced.

SAYS CHAMBER MUST SELL SELF TO COMMUNITY

The board of directors of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce drew criticism from one of its own members, A. E. Hutchison, at its monthly meeting in the chamber's office Monday night, for what Hutchison characterized as a "failure to sell the chamber to our own members."

The criticism came up during a discussion of the forthcoming membership dinner and the entertainment program for the dinner. Mr. Hutchison argued that a full and complete report should be made to the chamber membership at this dinner of what the Chamber is doing and what it has accomplished.

"The membership should realize the work carried on by the board of directors during the year," Hutchison said. "They don't know what they got for their $25 membership. If we have a good speaker for the dinner, and someone to tell the membership of the past year's activities, we won't need any entertainment."

Had Several Questions

"Many persons hear that a factory has considered locating in Gettysburg, that they have contacted the Chamber of Commerce, and they wonder why the matter goes no further," Hutchison said. "Let's tell them why no factories have located here. Let's tell them that these factories want a building all ready to move into, or that they

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president of the board, conducted the installation. Mrs. Sammel, who is also chairman of the program committee, with Miss Carolyn Rupp as co-chairman, has had extensive experience in YWCA work. She was a member of the board of directors of the YWCA in York for four years.

Monday's meeting opened with devotions by Miss Virginia Wright. Following the reports of the secretary and treasurer, reports of various standing committees were heard. Mrs. Fred Pfeiffer, chairman of the renovation committee, said that alterations and improvements to the "Y" home on Lincoln Square will be completed in about two weeks. Friday, October 6, was set as the tentative date for an "open house" to be held during the afternoon and evening to permit residents of the county to view the renovation of the home.

Accept Resignations

The board accepted with regret the resignations of Mrs. George D. Poissal, Y-Teen board member, who has moved to Baltimore, and Miss Anna Cairns, chairman of the expansion committee, who resigned for reasons of health.

Miss Ruth Doud, director, reported on the summer program of the Y-Teen clubs, and gave her statistical report, calling attention to the fact that a total of 1,736 persons had been active in committee and club meetings during June, July and August, which is a record attendance for the summer months, during which time the "Y" was closed for a month for alterations. YWCA club meetings totalled 32, with attendance of 866; outside committee meetings, 12, with 71 persons attending. There was one special YWCA meeting, attended by 14 persons. There were 109 volunteer workers active in specific jobs at the "Y", during the summer.

Since September is the beginning of the program year for the association, Miss Doud expressed thanks to all committee chairmen, members and volunteer workers for the work

The other was Mrs. Cora Hartman Berkeley, of West Broadway.

Dr. Samuel Gring Hefelbower, 78, former president of Gettysburg college, died Monday night at his home in Chautauque, N. Y. He had been ill for several years and lapsed into a coma Sunday night.

A native of Newville, born November 11, 1871, Doctor Hefelbower was a member of the class of 1891 of Gettysburg college. He graduated from the local Lutheran Theological seminary here in 1894 and the same year received his master of arts degree from Gettysburg college. Was President Six Years

Serving as president of Gettysburg college from 1904 to 1910, during his administration he improved the academic requirements, enlarged the faculty and broadened the curriculum of the school. One of his greatest contributions to the school was the securing of young men with university training as members of the teaching staff.

Prior to his acceptance of the presidency of the college here, Doctor Hefelbower was a graduate at Leipzig and Halle. Following his retirement as president, he did graduate work at Princeton and Harvard.

From 1914 to 1920 he was professor of philosophy in Washburn college and subsequently occupied the chair of philosophy at Carthage and Wagner colleges.

Wrote College History

Two books written by him were "The Relation of John Locke to English Theism" and "The History of Gettysburg College."

He was married three times, the first time on May 6, 1897, to Edna Mae Loomis, Troy, a graduate of the class of 1896 at Gettysburg college, who died in 1899. On September 25, 1902, he married Anna Eaton Hitchens, of Frostburg, Md., who died in 1922. In 1926 he married Lillian R. Gantt, a graduate of Gettysburg college with the class of 1908, who survives.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. J. Arthur Seebach, Merion; a grandson, John Arthur Seebach, Jr., also of Merion; two nieces, Mrs. Lowell C. Adcock, Washington, D. C., also a member of the class of 1908, and Mrs. Grant Gustin, Troy, Pa.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, on learning of the death this morning noted that "Doctor Hefelbower was a distinguished son of Gettysburg college and the Lutheran Theological seminary. Scholarly, an able teacher and a Christian gentleman, he was beloved by a who knew him."

Local Couple Is Observing 56th Anniversary Today

MR. AND MRS. S. E. SWOPE

A few old friends, together with a son, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren who reside here, helped Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Swope celebrate their 56th wedding anniversary today. They were the guests of Mrs. Swope at a dinner at the Swope apartment, 138 Carlisle street, this noon. The affair was in the nature of a surprise for most of the guests.

The Swope were married on September 12, 1894, in Washington, D. C. The bride of 56 years ago was Miss Ida W. LeDane, and the ceremony was performed at the home of her parents, who had moved to Washington from Hagerstown, by the Rev. William Lyons.

Two sisters and two brothers of Mrs. Swope who were present at the wedding in 1894 are living. J. W. and Harry G. LeDane, Mrs. Cora J. Killian and Mrs. Maude Hollinger, all of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Swope met her husband while the latter was visiting friends in Washington. After their marriage the couple returned to Gettysburg. They have spent all but one year of their married life here.

Mr. Swope was employed then by the late William T. Ziegler, who operated a livery business. He assisted in guiding many parties of tourists over the battlefield. Later he entered the government employ on the battlefield, and continued in this employment for 30 years, until he retired at the age limit of 65 years.

Both In Good Health

Mr. Swope will be 85 years old next February 22, Washington's birthday, while Mrs. Swope will be 76 on Christmas Day this year. Both enjoy unusually good health for their years.

For 23 years Mr. Swope operated Rosalind park, a refreshment stand, store and tourist camp on Confederate avenue and the Water Works road, and is known to thousands of tourists who stopped there.

Mr. and Mrs. Swope have four children, 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. The children are Samuel Franklin Swope, Gettysburg; Lawrence LeDane Swope, Lewistown, Pa.; Harold Ensor Swope, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Evelyn Collins, Clearwater, Fla.

FALL MEETING OF GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL HELD

The first fall meeting of the board of directors of the Adams County Girl Scout Council was held in the form of a covered-dish supper at the home of Mrs. George A. Miller, Marsh Creek Heights, on Monday evening. The president, Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, presided over the meeting.

Through unanimous decision of the board, neighborhood chairmen of the county will be invited to attend board meetings, in order to bring them into closer touch with the council's activities.

To Pay Registration

It was also unanimously voted to pay the registration fees of those board members planning to attend the regional conference in Pittsburgh October 8, 9 and 10, and to offer the service of the council to the committee on the civilian defense.

Two hundred fifty girls attended the three-day camps, staffed by 36 adults, in the earlier part of the summer. Through the sale of cookies the scouts raised $127.47 to defray the expenses of the camp. Donations of $50 each from the Moose and Elks lodges provided transportation to the camps.

The registrar's report for the summer showed that 90 girls and 31 adults had been registered.

Elwood Lautham, 18, Hanover R. 4, was treated for a laceration of his left little finger which was caught between two boards while working at the Gettysburg Panel factory.

Burgess Asks Help Of Business Places

Burgess William G. Weaver has written to nine centrally-located business places in Gettysburg asking them to leave blinds open in their establishments during the nights to assist borough police in their nightly checkups.

In the letter, the burgess points out that closely drawn blinds prevent fires from being spotted and also make it impossible for patrolling officers to detect prowlers or burglars.

The cooperation of the business places is being asked to assist the borough police department in its task of safeguarding property in Gettysburg, the burgess explains.

SAYS RUSSIA AT WAR WITH U.S. FOR 33 YEARS

"Russia has been openly at war with the United States since 1917," Capt. George Locker of the Armed Forces Information school at Carlisle Barracks, told members of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening in a talk at their weekly dinner meeting at the Shetter House.

"Our nation has never recognized or acknowledged that state of war but writings and speeches of Lenin and Stalin have stated clearly for many years the Soviet intention to communize the world," Captain Locker declared.

Asserting it is a mistake to think of Communism as the platform of a political party, Captain Locker used a series of charts to show the structure of the Soviet government and the Communist party. "At the upper levels, the officials of the Soviet government and the leaders of the Communist party are identical," the speaker pointed out, adding that such an organization makes it possible for the members of the Communist party, who represent a small minority of the Russian populace, to control Soviet affairs.

Deny "Sincere Diplomacy"

Quoting Karl Marx in a statement in which he said Communism must destroy its opposition, Captain Locker pointed out one of the distinguishing marks of a democracy is the fact that it permits a defeated minority to continue to organize and strive for victory at the next election.

The speaker described the 12 members of the Soviet politburo as the "12 most important men in the world, for they may decide how much we are going to spend for armaments, how big our taxes will be and what price we shall pay for national defense for years to come."

He cited instances of Russian "about faces" in speeches and actions and quoted a statement of Stalin as saying that "sincere diplomacy is no more possible than dry water. Good words are to be used to cloak bad deeds."

1st Cavalry Takes Peak Near Taegu; Cost Is High

By LEIF ERICKSON

Tokyo, Sept. 12 (AP)—A U.S. First Cavalry battalion captured a commanding peak eight miles north of Taegu tonight.

The troopers fought a daylong battle uphill against entrenched Red Korean troops and blistering gunfire to erase a new Red threat against Taegu.

AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth, reporting from the front, said American casualties were heavy.

Allied warplanes and artillery rocketed, bombed and blasted the entrenched Koreans before the troopers' assault.

"Main Threat" Gone

Then the foot cavalry stormed up the slopes. Red Koreans on the peak and on a nearby slope hurled blasts of artillery, mortar and machinegun fire at them.

The Americans drove two-thirds of the distance in the first five hours. Then they were pinned down most of the afternoon by Communist fire.

A regimental commander had described the Red Korean hill as "the main threat" to Taegu. Its capture gave American defenders a vital anchor on their right flank.

The Americans attacked first seven miles north of Taegu. General MacArthur's headquarters said they gained nearly one mile and secured high ground commanding the vital Taegu-Tabu road.

40,000 Reds Massed

Forty thousand Red Korean troops are massed north of the city for an expected fresh assault upon the allied northwest front anchor. The dug-in hill force was a small Red advance party.

Communist artillery roared a thunderous barrage for the third straight day, plastering the Taegu-Tabu road. One American battalion—1,000 men—spent most of Tuesday afternoon in foxholes there.

MOBILIZATION GETS ROLLING UNDER HARRISON

Washington, Sept. 11 (AP)—President Truman's new war mobilization machinery, geared to a $30,000,000-a-year arms program, began to roll today under a production boss borrowed from industry.

William H. Harrison, president of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., walked into the hot spot as head of a new "National Production Authority" (NPA) in the Commerce Department.

His first job, after today's swearing-in, was to face the steel industry—the presidents of 21 companies, invited here to discuss how to divide steel supplies between booming civilian factories and mushrooming war plants.

This was the first move in a mobilization against Communist aggression which Mr. Truman said Saturday night may last many years and will require sacrifices of every American.

A series of orders is expected to follow. But actual "allocations"—that is, assignments of steel and other materials to particular users—may not begin for weeks. And civilian goods—autos, television sets, freezers and others—may not be affected for months.

INVESTIGATORS SEEK CAUSE OF RAIL TRAGEDY

Coshocton, Ohio, Sept. 12 (AP)—Three separate agencies launched investigations today into a tragic road train wreck that claimed the lives of 33 persons—most believed to be soldiers.

And, less than 24 hours after the crash, a United States Senator demanded a nationwide inquiry into railroad safety practices.

The investigations center around Ohio's third worst train wreck, which also injured at least 10 persons.

Investigations were begun by the Pennsylvania railroad, whose streamlined "Spirit of St. Louis" crashed into a troop train at nearby West Lafayette; the Ohio Military district, and the national guard.

Probers Arrive

The investigators want to know why the steamroller passed flames and crashed into the stalled troop train.

Two national guard officers from Washington—Col. C. F. Sawyer and Lt. Col. H. J. Bessie—arrived last night to conduct the guard's investigation. The dead soldiers were uniforms.

The Counter Intelligence Division of the Ohio Military district began its investigation earlier, as did the railroad.

Identify Victims

The army still was working to identify the remaining victims. The office of Governor James H. Duff at Harrisburg, Pa., announced that recruit Frank C. Martinez, of (810 "St. Louis" the Bronx, N. Y., had been identified as the 23rd guardman dead, leaving 10 victims unidentified. Duff's office said Martinez was member of Battery B, 10th Field Artillery. Most of the remaining 10 unidentified dead also were believed to be national guardsmen.

Their train, carrying 500 guardsmen to Camp Atterbury, Ind., stalled with a broken axle on an ogee stretch of the Pennsylvania railroad near this eastern Ohio town at 5:10 a.m. (EST) yesterday.

Five minutes later, despite red flares placed on the track, the Pennsylvania's streamlined "Spirit of St. Louis" crashed into the rear of the disabled train.

DILWORTH, LIND TO SPEAK HERE

Richardson Dilworth and Congressman James F. Lind will speak at Adams county on Tuesday, September 19, county Democratic chairman Fred G. Klunk announced today.

Dilworth, Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and Lind, who is seeking re-election as congressman from the 21st district, which includes Adams, York and Franklin counties, will speak from a caravan in Lincoln Square here at 2:30 p.m., on that date.

The caravan containing the candidates will arrive here about 12:15 o'clock. An "advance runner" in a jeep will arrive earlier to announce the coming of the candidates. The two will speak on the southwest corner of the square. Following the talks, the candidates will lunch at the Hotel Gettysburg at 1:15 o'clock.

The two will leave Gettysburg about 2 o'clock for Littlestown where a similar program will be held at 4 o'clock in the center of that town. From there the candidates will go to McSherrystown where they will talk at 3:45 o'clock in front of the post office building on Main street. From there they will go to West Oxford where Dilworth will speak for the northern part of the county.

Jay W. Bringham, York street, Democratic candidate for the General Assembly, will travel with the caravan on its tour of the county.

Jail Army Major In Investigation

Reno, Sept. 12 (AP)—A handsome army major—located at an isolated ranch—was jailed today for questioning about alleged misapplication of more than $250,000 in Germany.

The army identified him as Maj. Harold Dean Banning, 39, a finance officer in a Berlin army post. He is here on 60-day leave—and, he said, to divorce his wife, Willie Lee Ramsey Banning, formerly of Arkansas. She remained in Germany.

Dressed nattily in civilian clothes, Banning firmly denied he had "stolen anything or absconded with any funds." The Defense Department had broadcast a nationwide pickup order for him, saying he was wanted for investigation of "misapplication of public funds in excess of $250,000."

The U. S. command in Germany had asked Washington to find and question Banning about "certain alleged irregularities in financial matters."

MAINE RUNS TRUE TO FORM

(By The Associated Press)

Seven scattered states held primary elections today, but chief national interest remained centered on New England where Maine voters ran true to form yesterday and kept Republicans in all major offices.

The main voting, always first in the nation, was the initial statewide election since the war broke out in Korea. Democrats, despite their traditionally decided minority, put up an unusually stiff campaign.

But the voters returned to office Republican Governor Frederick G. Payne and three sitting GOP House members, Reps. Robert Hale, Charles P. Nelson and Frank Fellows. It was the state's eighth straight Republican sweep.

With only a few small and scattered precincts uncounted, the GOP polled the same percentage of votes—61 percent—as it did in 1946, also a non-presidential year. Payne's margin fell off compared with two years ago when he drew 65 percent of the vote.

Attracting most interest in today's primary voting was New Hampshire. Republican Senator Charles W. Tobey was opposed for nomination for a third term by Wesley Powell, an attorney and former administrative assistant to Tobey's colleague, GOP Senator Styles Bridges. Emmet J. Kelly, national committeeman, was opposed for the Democratic nomination.

State College, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Freshmen returning to the campus of the Pennsylvania State college for the first time in five years were told that for a time they may "experience a glorious confusion."

Lake Success, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Security Council comes back today for a milestone meeting, its 500th, after failing by a single vote to grant Communist China even back door entry as an observer in the Council.

A private meeting, intended to take final action on the Council's 1949-50 report to the United Nations General Assembly, was called this morning. Hanging over it is the threat of Russia's 45th veto, to keep out reports of 1950 meetings boycotted by the Russians.

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—The McCarran anti-Communist bill appeared victory-bound in the Senate today despite President Truman's avowal that he would not sign it.

Voting on the sweeping and stringent provisions of the measure proposed by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) starts at noon (EST). The Senate remained in session until almost midnight last night to finish the pre-vote oratory.

Boston, Sept. 12 (AP)—A powerful Atlantic hurricane whistled out to sea early today after brushing the New England coast with winds up to 70 miles an hour.

The blow smashed small boats at moorings, endangered coastal shipping, snapped power lines and toppled trees before it turned seaward 80 miles east of Nantucket island, off the Massachusetts coast.

CHARGE IS DROPPED

The technical charge of reckless driving brought against Ray P. Snyder, Littlestown, as a result of an auto accident August 26, near Pleasantville, Md., has been "not pressed," according to word sent Snyder by the magistrate at Westminster. The charge was brought originally because the wreck involved an out-of-state person and then was dropped because the investigation revealed that the accident had been no fault of Snyder's.

Speaking in the rain to a large audience Saturday night on Lincoln Square, R. B. Naugle, candidate for governor on the "GI's Against Communism" ticket told the group that he is sure "the taxpayers of the state will understand that every extravagance in the use of public funds and unnecessary jobs is an added burden on the taxpayer."

He added that "I believe the people of the commonwealth are heartsick listening to the shameful mud-slinging that has marked this year's political activities."

"I believe that the expenditures of millions of dollars during the primary ordeal and general election for buying votes will make every voter fearful about the natural obligations after the election, a great portion of which indirectly each taxpayer must pay," Naugle continued.

There are many inequities in government that need to be corrected. This must be done through executive experience and not merely upon the dollar-per-vote symbol.

"As the owner of a nationwide business, I am anxious to put into practice at Harrisburg business efficiency and economy under my 35 point platform wherein competent personnel now on the payroll shall remain and those who do not function must quit."

"We of the GI ticket, all capable businessmen, are sure that the tremendous leaps of tax dollar extravaganzas can only be plugged by executive training, engineering experience and economic expert judgment," Naugle declared.

He spoke both in English and Pennsylvania Dutch.

YANKEES AGAIN LEAD; PHILLIES NEARING TITLE

(By The Associated Press)

The big question in the National League appears not to be so much who will win the pennant but when the Philadelphia Phillies finally will hit it.

The Whiz Kids, idle yesterday, are in a two-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals tonight at Shibe Park—still leading the pennant race.

The Dodgers, rained out of a scheduled game with the New York Yankees yesterday, take on the Cincinnati Reds at Ebbets Field tonight.

The Phils have 19 games remaining and the Dodgers have 24. If the Whiz Kids win only 10 of their 23 games, Brooklyn must grab 20 out of 23 to win the pennant.

The third-place Boston Braves by a game token would have to win out of 23 and the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals 19 of 23.

The Brooklyn-Giants washed out today was the only National League game on tap yesterday.

Cruel Invasions
Meanwhile, the see-saw American League pennant race roars into the day with the pressure heavier on the invading New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox than on the Detroit Tigers.

Stengel's Yankees, leading the half-game, begin a nine-game series with the Red Sox, a two-game series in Cleveland tonight. The Red Sox, who forged to the lead yesterday by sweeping a doubleheader from Washington, 5-1 and 6-2, face no easy task.

The Yankees have won 21 of 23 games in the west with Cleveland their best stop and Detroit their poorest. The Yankees have won seven out of nine in Cleveland but only two out of eight in Detroit.

However, the Indians, virtually knocked out of contention over the weekend when they dropped four straight games to the lowly St. Louis Browns, are out for blood. They are trying under a spanking by their general manager, Hank Greenberg, to blast them for "not hustling playing stupid ball."

Besides, the Yanks' top Indian pitcher, Eddie Lopat, probably will be available for duty. Lopat, who holds a 27-6 life-time record against the Indians and a 5-0 record this year, worked only five innings in relief yesterday.

Billie Reynolds (13-11) is slated to oppose the Indians' Early Wynn (7-7) tonight. Wynn has beaten the Yanks three times.

The Red Sox, installed by New York odds-makers at 7½ or 8½, are favorite to win the pennant, are the hottest team in the race at the moment. The Sox have won 23 of 26 games but are known as a poor road club.

Poor Road Mark
Boston's record in the west this year is a so-so 19-17 and was built primarily at the expense of the St. Louis Browns. The Sox have picked off the Browns eight straight in St. Louis but elsewhere they have not fared so well. Their record at Chicago is 5-5, at Cleveland 2-7 and at Detroit 4-3.

The Tigers have a schedule advantage over the Yanks and Red Sox. They have 17 games remaining at home where they have won 44 of 50 but only 19 of 26 on the road.

The crucial games of the western season begin on Thursday when the Yankees invade Detroit for three games. The Red Sox follow the Yankees with a two-game series beginning on Sunday.

Lopat and young Ed Ford were winning pitchers for the Yankees yesterday in the rain-swept doubleheader at Washington, only activity in the league.

Ford pitched a brilliant three-inning game in the opener to post his sixth victory without a setback. The young pitcher held the Senators hitless over the last five innings.

The game was a nip and tuck affair until the eighth inning when the Yankees hopped on Al Suma for three runs to take a 5-1 lead. Rookie pitcher Jensen led the Yanks' ten-run attack with three safeties including his first major league home run.

Lopat relieved erratic Tommy Brown in the fifth inning of the second game and allowed only two runs in the rest of the way to gain a 16th victory.

Wreck's Survivors Greeted As Heroes

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Sept. 12 (AP)

—Northeast Pennsylvania National guardsmen who escaped injury in a train wreck at Coshocton, Ohio, yesterday, were greeted as heroes when they arrived at Camp Atterbury this morning.

Maj. Gen. Daniel Strickler, commanding general of the Keystone Division, flew back from the wreckage where 33 men in a troop train died in order to greet the survivors personally at their training camp.

"I would be willing to take this outfit into combat right now," Gen. Strickler told the weary troops, "on the basis of the way it reacted to emergency at Coshocton."

He added that too much could not be said for the way citizens of Coshocton went all out to help the soldiers. Earlier arrivals at the camp had a hot meal ready for the wreck survivors—and made-up bunks that were even more welcome.

GHS GRIDDERS TO BE ATTIRRED IN NEW PANTS

(By The Associated Press)

Gettysburg high school's football squad will make a much neater and flashier appearance Friday evening when it opens its season here with Westminster high as the result of the recent purchase of 33 pairs of all-knit pants.

The skin-tight fitting pants will be silver in color and will be without trumming this season. Next season a band will be added to conform with a lighter maroon jersey which will also be used in 1951.

Sponge rubber knee guards will be separate enabling players to place them in the position desired, the pants being drawn over the guards. Much better protection will be afforded the players in comparison to the old style of equipment.

In addition to the new pants the usual number of new hip and shoulder pads have been secured.

Coaches Howard Shoemaker and Ross Sachs are sending their charges through stiff workouts in preparation for Friday night's opener. Westminster will bring a heavy, veteran team here. The Marylanders will have nine lettermen in the opening lineup, most of whom have played together four years. Last year the Warriors won a 12-0 victory.

Wilmington's pennant winning Blue Rocks have carried their semi-final playoff series with Harrisburg's Senators down to the seventh and deciding game.

Trailing at one time three games to one, the Blue Rocks won last Saturday to narrow the margin and then squared the series at three games each last night with a 9-1 victory.

Johnny Walz checked the Senators with two hits. For five innings, Art Wood had the better of the pitching duel leading 1-0. But in the sixth the Rocks came up with four runs, added another in the seventh and four more in the eighth.

The final game is scheduled for tonight at Wilmington with the winner qualifying to meet Hagerstown in the championships series.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Binghamton Triplets entertain the rampaging Albany Senators tonight in the first game of a semi-final series in the Eastern league playoffs.

The scheduled opening of a second, best-of-seven series between pennant-flying Wilkes-Barre and Hartford was postponed until tomorrow night because of a train wreck yesterday that caused the death of many Pennsylvania National guardsmen.

That game, and the second in the series, also were transferred from Wilkes-Barre to Hartford. Major Luther W. Kniffen has proclaimed a week of mourning in Wilkes-Barre for victims of the train wreck in Ohio.

The teams will travel to Wilkes-Barre for the third and fourth games.

When the New York Yanks topped the Chicago Cardinals, it was the first exhibition win for a Ted Collins-owned football team.

The 1950 football campaign is George Mehnovich's second as Utah State head coach.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—Story currently kicking around the Midwest is that Lou Boudreau will become baseball coach at his alma mater, Illinois, when he winds up his Cleveland career. . . . Lou, himself, has taken pretty good care of winding up the playing part and you know what happens to managers, however popular, when they don't win enough pennants. . . . But it seems there's a guy named Wally Roettger who has been doing a right good job of coaching the Illinois teams. . . . Jon Dilwe, son of the celebrated Marquette and Green Bay Packers end, Lavvie, didn't show up for fall football practice at Marquette and is reported to have accepted an appointment to the Naval academy. The switch won't likely win many votes for Lavvie, who is a candidate for Senator. . . . Two members of the North Carolina university football squad, Dick Bunting and Ed Bilpuch, are Phi Beta Kappas. Carolina's brightest all America prospect is center Huck Holdash, who spent the summer working in a Youngstown, Ohio, steel mill.

SUITS HIM
After last year's Notre Dame-Southern Methodist game, all hands were pretty well convinced that Kyle Rote wouldn't have to do much more than draw a uniform to make All America this fall. . . . The magazine covers and pre-season predictions seemed to confirm that idea. . . . So it isn't surprising that when the SMU players were being outfitted for the start of practice one wag watched Kyle pull on his jersey, then remarked: "There you are! Mr. Rote just made All-America."

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS
California story is that a Southern Cal alumnus invaded coach Jeff Cravath's office a few years ago to praise a certain service footballer. Jeff turned to Jim Hardy, just out of uniform then, and asked if he'd ever heard of Charley Justice. . . .

Fast Sale Of Seats For Bucknell Game

The Gettysburg-Bucknell football game Saturday evening, September 23, in the Bison stadium at Lewisburg is drawing state-wide attention and will probably be a sell-out.

Over 3,000 of the 5,000 reserved seats available in the stadium have been sold. Bucknell authorities said today that reserved seats placed on sale last week in Lewisburg and Sunbury were sold out in two days. Another block will be offered in those towns.

Local fans desiring reserved seats may secure them at the college athletic office.

Announcement has been made that three radio stations will broadcast the game Gettysburg's station WOET, Sunbury's WKOK, and Philadelphia's WPEN have all made arrangements to air the contest.

Dickinson Loses Tackle To Marines
Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 12 — The Dickinson college football squad has lost its biggest player to the Marines. He is William DuBose, 225-pound, 6-2 sophomore tackle from Washington, D. C.

Frank R. Maze, the new head coach, announced that DuBose, member of the Marine Reserve for the past year, who starred on the freshman eleven last season, received notice to report September 21 at Quantico, Va. He had unimpressed in pre-season drills. His departure cut the squad to 47 players.

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Col. John M. Welch has assumed command of the Valley Forge Army hospital. A native of Concord, Mass., Col. Welch received his degree in medicine in Philadelphia in 1916 and was commissioned in the Army Medical Corps in the following year. He served with the U. S. occupation forces in Germany after World War I, later being attached to the surgeon general's office in Washington.

Wreck's Survivors Greeted As Heroes

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Sept. 12 (AP)—Northeast Pennsylvania National Guardsmen who escaped injury in a train wreck at Coshocton, Ohio, yesterday, were greeted as heroes when they arrived at Camp Atterbury this morning.

Maj. Gen. Daniel Strickler, commanding general of the Keystone Division, flew back from the wreck-where 33 men in a troop train died in order to greet the survivors personally at their training camp.

"I would be willing to take this outfit into combat right now," Gen. Strickler told the weary troops, "on the basis of the way it reacted to emergency at Coshocton."

He added that too much could not be said for the way citizens of Coshocton went all out to help the soldiers. Earlier arrivals at the camp had a hot meal ready for the wreck survivors—and made-up bunks that were even more welcome.

GHS GRIDDERS TO BE ATTIRED IN NEW PANTS

Gettysburg high school's football squad will make a much neater and flashier appearance Friday evening when it opens its season here with Westminster high as the result of the recent purchase of 33 pairs of all-knit pants.

The skin-tight fitting pants will be silver in color and will be without trimming this season. Next season a band will be added to conform with a lighter maroon jersey which will also be used in 1951.

Sponge rubber knee guards will be separate enabling players to place them in the position desired, the pants being drawn over the guards. Much better protection will be afforded the players in comparison to the old style of equipment.

In addition to the new pants the usual number of new hip and shoulder pads have been secured.

Coaches Howard Shoemaker and Ross Sachs are sending their charges through stiff workouts in preparation for Friday night's opener. Westminster will bring a heavy, veteran team here. The Marylanders will have nine lettermen in the opening lineup, most of whom have played together four years. Last year the Warriors won a 12-0 victory.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—Story currently kicking around the Midwest is that Lou Boudreau will become baseball coach at his alma mater, Illinois, when he winds up his Cleveland career. . . . Lou, himself, has taken pretty good care of winding up the playing part and you know what happens to managers, however popular, when they don't win enough pennants. . . . But it seems there's a guy named Wally Roettger who has been doing a right good job of coaching the Illinois teams. . . . Jon Dilweg, son of the celebrated Marquette and Green Bay Packers end, Lavie, didn't show up for fall football practice at Marquette and is reported to have accepted an appointment to the Naval academy. The switch won't likely win many votes for Lavie, who is a candidate for Senator. . . . Two members of the North Carolina university football squad, Dick Bunting and Ed Bilpuch, are Phi Beta Kappas. Carolina's brightest all America prospect is center Huck Holdash, who spent the summer working in a Youngstown, Ohio, steel mill.

SUITS HIM
After last year's Notre Dame-Southern Methodist game, all hands were pretty well convinced that Kyle Rote wouldn't have to do much more than draw a uniform to make All America this fall. . . . The magazine covers and pre-season predictions seemed to confirm that idea. . . . So it isn't surprising that when the SMU players were being outfitted for the start of practice one wag watched Kyle pull on his jersey, then remarked: "There you are! Mr. Rote just made All-America."

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS
California story is that a Southern Cal alumnus invaded coach Jeff Cravath's office a few years ago to praise a certain service footballer. Jeff turned to Jim Hardy, just out of uniform then, and asked if he'd ever heard of Charley Justice. . . .

Fast Sale Of Seats For Bucknell Game

The Gettysburg-Bucknell football game Saturday evening, September 23, in the Bison stadium at Lewisburg is drawing state-wide attention and will probably be a sell-out. Over 3,000 of the 5,000 reserved seats available in the stadium have been sold. Bucknell authorities said today that reserved seats placed on sale last week in Lewisburg and Sunbury were sold out in two days. Another block will be offered in those towns.

Local fans desiring reserved seats may secure them at the college athletic office.

Announcement has been made that three radio stations will broadcast the game. Gettysburg's station WGET, Sunbury's WKOK, and Philadelphia's WPEN have all made arrangements to air the contest.

INVESTIGATORS SEEK CAUSE OF RAIL TRAGEDY

Cohasset, Ohio, Sept. 12 (AP)—Three separate agencies launched investigations today into a tragic train wreck that claimed the lives of 35 persons—most believed to be soldiers.

And, less than 24 hours after the crash, a United States Senator demanded a nationwide inquiry into the safety practices.

Their investigations center on Ohio's third worst train wreck, which also injured at least 100 persons.

Investigations were begun by the Pennsylvania railroad, whose train was "Spirit of St. Louis" crashed into a troop train at near West Lafayette, the Ohio Military district, and the national guard.

Probers Arrive

The investigators wanted to know why the steamliner passed flares and crashed into the stalled troop train.

Two national guard officers from Washington—Col. C. F. Sawyer and Col. H. J. Bersace—arrived last night to conduct the guard's investigation. The dead soldiers were soldiers.

The Counter Intelligence Division of the Ohio Military district began investigation earlier, as did the railroad.

Identify Victims

The army still was working to identify the remaining victims. The chief of Governor James H. Duff at Harrisburg, Pa., announced that he would identify the 23rd guardsman, leaving 10 victims unidentified.

Duff's office said Martinez was member of Battery B, 109th Field Artillery. Most of the remaining 10 identified dead also were believed to be national guardsmen.

Their train, carrying 500 guardsmen to Camp Atterbury, Ind., derailed with a broken air hose on a gully stretch of the Pennsylvania railroad near this eastern Ohio town at 5:10 a.m. (EST) yesterday.

Five minutes later, despite red flares placed on the track, the Pennsylvania's steamliner "Spirit of St. Louis" crashed into the rear of the disabled train.

Jail Army Major In Investigation

Reno, Sept. 12 (AP)—A handsome army major—located at an isolated ranch—was jailed today for questioning about alleged misapplication of more than $250,000 in Germany.

The army identified him as Maj. Harold Dean Banning, 39, a finance officer in a Berlin army post. He is here on 60-day leave—and, he said, to divorce his wife, Willie Lee Ramsey Banning, formerly of Arkansas. She remained in Germany.

Dressed nattily in civilian clothes, Banning firmly denied he had "stolen anything or absconded with any funds." The Defense Department had broadcast a nationwide pickup order for him, saying he was wanted for investigation of "misapplication of public funds in excess of $250,000."

The U. S. command in Germany had asked Washington to find and question Banning about "certain alleged irregularities in financial matters."

Atlantic hurricane whistled out to sea early today after brushing the New England coast with winds up to 70 miles an hour.

The blow smashed small boats at moorings, endangered coastal shipping, snapped power lines and toppled trees before it turned seaward 80 miles east of Nantucket Island, off the Massachusetts coast.

MAINE RUNS TRUE TO FORM

(By The Associated Press)

Seven scattered states held primary elections today, but chief national interest remained centered on New England where Maine voters ran true to form yesterday and kept Republicans in all major offices.

The main voting, always first in the nation, was the initial statewide election since the war broke out in Korea. Democrats, despite their traditionally decided minority, put up an unusually stiff campaign.

But the voters returned to office Republican Governor Frederick C. Payne and three sitting GOP House members, Reps. Robert Hale, Charles P. Nelson and Frank Fellows. It was the state's eighth straight Republican sweep.

With only a few small and scattered precincts uncounted, the GOP polled the same percentage of votes—61 percent—as it did in 1946, also a non-presidential year. Payne's margin fell off compared with two years ago when he drew 65 percent of the vote.

Attracting most interest in today's primary voting was New Hampshire. Republican Senator Charles W. Tobey was opposed for nomination for a third term by Wesley Powell, an attorney and former administrative assistant to Tobey's colleague, GOP Senator Styles Bridges. Emmet J. Kelly, national committeeman, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Charge Is Dropped

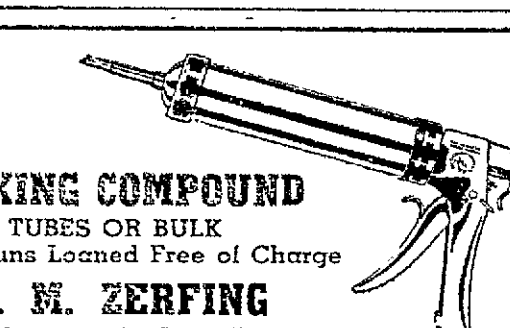

The technical charge of reckless driving brought against Ray F. Snyder, Littlestown, as a result of an auto accident August 26, near Pleasantville, Md., has been "not pressed," according to word sent Snyder by the magistrate at Westminster. The charge was brought originally because the wreck involved an out-of-state person and then was dropped because the investigation revealed that the accident had been no fault of Snyder's.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SECOND LIFE PLEASURES

From an article by Sheldon Cheney, in his book "The Story of Modern Art," I came across this interesting statement about the great French artist Renoir: "When he went to the museum he sought out the artists who had painted radiantly, glowingly, voluptuously; he came away praising Valazquez and Giorgione and Titian—and he said that he had lived a second life in the pleasure he experienced from the works of the masters."

I believe we all have had such an experience. I have felt this way time and again after visiting a gallery or library. And I have had the same experience after listening to a great production on the stage, or after having read a great book for the first time.

Talk to a person like John Kieran or Edwin Way Teale, as he unfolds many of the secrets of bird life, and you will live this second life of pleasures from every statement he makes, so deeply is he in love with the beauty and grandeur of Nature.

I sat on a stone at the edge of the lake at my summer retreat and beckoned to a little chipmunk. He seemed unusually tame and friendly, and came within two feet of me. I broke a peanut from its shell and tossed it to him. He fiddled with it for a few seconds, then turned around and came to me again. I thought he was going to eat the peanut, but he didn't. He took it into his mouth and lodged it in his cheek, like the small boy with his hard ball of candy. Then my friend apparently meant to tease me for a whole nut in its shell, which I gave him, and this he scampered away with for future hunger!

These second-life pleasures, gathered from most any interesting place, or through some unusual experience, are what salt life, give it zest and sparkle. Listen to the talk of a couple of golf enthusiasts, or a group of expert fishermen, and you will be looking upon those who are unconsciously experiencing their second life in the pleasure of the moment.

Cameras have played a big part in giving to thousands a second life of pleasure. Photography is also one of the most fascinating hobbies anyone can have, because it can give pleasure to so many others.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tongue or Head?" Protected, 1950, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

TWO TABLES
The table that is neat and trim
With silver things aglow
And crystal glasses, tall and slim,
Is merely decked for show.
'Tis proper that our friends should share
The finest things we own.
For that way, when they're sitting there,
Our love for them is shown.

But when alone we meet to dine,
And needless is display,
The tableware is not so fine,
Being used for every day.
What Mrs. Post insists upon
For manners, we don't use.
Then I may rest my elbows on
The table if I choose.

In summer, when the days are hot
And I am called for tea,
Should I appear in coat, or not,
No one will frown on me.
And should I be inclined to sop
The gravy with my bread,
No one will order me to stop
Or even shake a head.

At home with those I love the most
I'm happiest to dine.
Then, I can dunk my crust of toast
If such a wish be mine.
With loving hands the plates to pass,
Contented I can be
Without the silver things and glass
We keep for company.

MOBILIZATION TO HIT PUBLIC IN POCKETBOOK

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—The first cautious steps to rearm America indicated today it may be months before consumers are hit anywhere but in the pocketbook.

Curbs on installment buying go into effect next Monday. Higher income taxes probably will start taking a bigger bite out of pay checks October 1. There were signs the wartime lack of some goods would not be duplicated, at least not soon.

In the steel industry, which supplies material for cars, refrigerators, construction, television, etc., the initial government move was toward easing the pinch of President Truman's projected $30,000,000,000-a-year arms program.

Steel Heads Confer
The government asked the industry to figure out just how much it can expand production capacity, which has just passed the 100,000,000-ton-a-year mark and is at the highest point in history. Industry promised a prompt answer.

Officers of 21 steel companies, big and little, met at the Commerce department yesterday with Secretary Sawyer and William H. Harrison. On leave from the presidency of International Telephone and Telegraph company, Harrison had just been sworn in as boss of the new National Production Authority (NPA). The President set up NPA in the Commerce department to help boost the output of guns, planes and tanks.

A dozen executives of copper companies were called for a similar conference today. Other meetings are on tap with spokesmen for aluminum and other industries.

But the government was just getting organized for the big effort to build up muscle to hit back at Communist aggression in Korea or anywhere else it may break out. It was only last Friday that Mr. Truman signed the home front mobilization bill giving him broad authority to apply controls.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff says the time has come "to make some important distinctions of constitutional rights" to guard against "internal enemies of this country."

Duff spoke in a radio address delivered here after he cancelled an appearance at Oil City, where he was to open officially his campaign for election as U. S. Senator. He called off the trip because of the 28th Division train wreck.

"The tragedy of the Pennsylvania troops (yesterday) is merely a symbol of the kind of sacrifice that must be necessary on a vast scale if we are to carry the torch of freedom in today's world," he continued.

MISS AMERICA PLANS CAREER

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—What's next for smiling, brunette Yolande Betbeze of Mobile, Ala., the girl who reigns in bathing-suit, crown and cape as Miss America 1951?

First she's just going to enjoy being Miss America. "I'm leaving my immediate future in the hands of the Miss America pageant," she said. That could mean a year of stage, modeling and television contracts totaling about $50,000.

And after that? Miss Betbeze (she pronounces it Bet-bee) wants a career in musical comedy or opera, and the $5,000 scholarship that comes with the Miss America title may further it.

A husband? Not yet. "I haven't had much time for going out," says the beauty queen, who has been studying voice and dancing for six years, in addition to language courses given at night by the University of Alabama Extension school. She says there is no special boy friend, and that she doesn't plan to marry for several years.

The 5-foot, 5½-inch southern belle who beat 53 competitors to the beauty-and-talent title Saturday neither drinks or smokes.

And "I've never been kissed by Governor Big Jim Polson," the 21-year-old winner told interviewers, despite the fact that she is the first Miss Alabama to become Miss America and has been a receptionist in political campaigns in Mobile.

There are no more at home like the poised Miss Betbeze, whose 119 pounds include a 35-inch bust, a 24-inch waist, and 35½-inch hips. She is an only child, and lives with her widowed mother, Mrs. Ethel Meyer Betbeze.

Philadelphian, Sept. 12 (AP)—Richard Dilworth, Democratic candidate for governor, says the state government needs a complete reorganization study made by a "little Hoover Commission."

"There has been no reorganization of the government of our state since Gifford Pinchot's first administration 23 years ago," Dilworth said last night in the first of eight scheduled weekly television appearances.

Captain Locker read the pledge given American Communists when they join the Red party. It contained a declaration of support for Soviet Russia and for loyalty to the Soviet in its plan to become supreme in the United States.

President Radford H. Lippy presided at the meeting with more than 100 club members in attendance. Donald Miller of the York Springs Lions club was a guest.

Plan Ladies Night
The president thanked the program committee for arranging the trip to Philadelphia last Sunday when 41 Lions saw the Phillies-Braves baseball game. Plans were discussed for a Sunday trip to Washington or Baltimore this fall for a pro football game.

Plans were announced for a Ladies' night trip to Allenberry for dinner and a play the evening of September 25. Next Monday is the deadline for reservations.

A letter of thanks was read from George F. Eberhart, member of the club who is a patient in a Harrisburg hospital, for flowers sent him by the Lions. George T. Raffensperger announced the club cleared about $50 by its sponsorship of the local showing of the "Redwood house" here several weeks ago.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH HOME

The laying of the corner-stone for the new Homewood Church Home, Hagerstown, now under construction will take place on Sunday at 3 p.m., rain or shine. The Rev. Gottlieb Siegenthaler, Baltimore, president of the Potomac Synod, will be speaker.

Homewood is a benevolent institution of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. It is supported by voluntary contributions from the members and friends of the affiliated congregation, which includes all the Evangelical and Reformed churches in the Potomac, Merceburg and Southern Synods and part of Central Pennsylvania synod. The new home, located two miles south of the present location on Route 11 in Hagerstown, will accommodate 52 guests and the serving staff and will be completely modern and of fireproof construction.

The items to be placed in the corner-stone include a Bible, certificate of incorporation, by-laws, history of the home, copies of The Fireside, copy of The Messenger, list of the supporting congregations, detailed plan of present structure and names of the members of the board of trustees.

The home, costing approximately $400,000, was designed by James R. Edmunds, Jr., architect of Baltimore, and is being constructed by O. H. Hostetter of Hanover.

DRAFT PLANS FOR DOCTORS ARE EXPLAINED

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Under the regular draft law—covering everyone except doctors and dentists—only those between 19 and 26 can be drafted into the armed forces.

That law stands unchanged. But under another law just passed doctors and dentists up to the age of 50 can be drafted. This doesn't mean, though, that the government will start taking anyone up to 50.

The first to be taken will be those who had medical training at government expense during the war but put in little or no military service.

Got Cold Shoulder

When this country decided to rebuild the armed forces—after the Korean outbreak—the army and navy made a bid to get some of those still-young doctors, who had had some schooling at government expense, to pay back their debt by joining up.

This bid got a pretty cold shoulder from the young doctors and dentists, even though the American Medical Association urged them to step forward.

So Congress passed this bill giving the President power to call any doctor or dentist up to 50 years of age. Although the President can suit himself under the law as to whom he takes first, Congress asked him to do the drafting in this order:

Order To Be Used

1. Those who had AST or V-12 and put in less than 90 days' military service or none at all. (This No. 1 group also includes those who paid for their own medical training but were deferred from the draft because they were studying medicine.)

2. Those who had AST or V-12 training and put in more than 90 days' service but less than 21 months of it. (This also includes those in parenthesis under No. 1.)

3. Doctors and dentists who didn't take any part in AST or V-12 but still have had no military service of any kind. (This of course would include those who were practicing before, during and after the war, and even those just now getting out of school.)

4. Those who had active service. That is, doctors and dentists who are veterans of the war. (But in the case of No. 4 Congress asked the President to be careful about laying down special rules for them, taking into consideration the length of their service, the time they may have spent in the AST or V-12 program, and whether or not drafting them would be tough on their dependents, or on their community.)

Bonus Is Offered

Sometime soon the President will announce a registration date for doctors and dentists. Then:

1. All those under 50 must register with a draft board.

2. Or, just certain groups, which he'll designate, must register.

If a doctor or dentist volunteers for military service, he'll be made a commissioned officer and, in addition to his officers' pay, get a bonus of $100 a month.

If the government has to force him into military service by drafting him, he may get a commission but he definitely won't get the $100 bonus which goes to volunteers. The new law says that plainly.

REPORT SHOWS

1949-50 school year. The report showed Gettysburg as moving ahead one position. The previous year it had been fourth in the state in regards to number of teachers with college certificates. Gettysburg's 89.9 per cent in the 1948-49 school year had placed it in the fourth spot behind Mt. Lebanon, Indiana and Brentwood.

Top Nearby Towns

Nearby Hanover borough is in sixth place with 89.5 per cent college certificates. Waynesboro and Chambersburg were shown to be far down the list with 63.5 and 65.3 per cent respectively.

All Gettysburg teachers have had at least two years of college education, the report disclosed. Adams county as a whole was shown to have 97.7 per cent of its teachers with at least two years college. In regard to teachers with full college certificates, Adams county ranked 18th in the state with 53.5 per cent, as compared with the average of 51.6 for all counties. The county slipped from 11th to 18th place in the state during the two school years 1948-49 and 1949-50, the report showed. In the first year the county had 56.7 per cent of its teachers with college certificates. Delaware county was tops for both years with 66.2 in 1949-50 and 74.7 in 1948-49.

The report showed that of 55 teachers in the Gettysburg borough system 50 are college graduates, two hold normal school certificates and three standard certificates. Of Adams county's 217 teachers, 116 are college graduates, 40 hold normal school certificates, 56 standard certificates and five full-time emergency certificates.

Review Bus Schedules

Franklin and York counties were shown as low on the list with York county, with 40 percent of its teachers having college certificates, being 60th in the list and Franklin with 20.2 being 63rd in the list of 66 counties.

ness concerned untangling a number of loose ends disclosed with the opening of the school system.

The directors spent much time working out means of shaving a few minutes off bus schedules at various points in order to make the intricate bus system which transports most of the jointure's pupils to school work more efficiently. They discussed the absence of several children from school and the presence of several others who should be in other school systems but who showed up in the Gettysburg jointure schools.

A report on the organization of the Gettysburg school authority was presented to the committee by Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools. Bids for the addition to the high school here will be opened October 9, the committee learned. It was decided to have a full joint meeting at the high school here on that date, with special meetings of all boards to be held at the high school at 7:30 p.m. and the joint meeting at 8 p.m. to take what action may be necessary to aid the authority.

The treasurer's report for August showed expenditures of $4,499.15 leaving the joint system with a balance of $4,505.29.

The RANGE DOCTOR

Chapter 4

Logan met Hawkins and found Griggsby's description unerring in its accuracy and reliable "as to diagnosis."

From here the young doctor trailed his mentor to place after place, doing his best to keep the editor sober, meeting all sorts of people who greeted him heartily on the newspaper man's endorsement.

They entered a saloon where Logan shook hands with the proprietor and declined a drink. Griggsby did not, and Logan looked on helplessly. At the back of the bar, apart from the others, a middle-aged man was having a solitary drink.

"Well, what do you know about that?" Griggsby exclaimed. "I've had an eye out for the veterinary all evening. Come on back, son, and meet the horse doctor."

Logan surveyed the veterinary curiously as he obeyed. Bryant was a sparely built man clad in a rumpled and spotted black Prince Albert coat. A battered plug hat with a green patina of age was shoved somewhat back on his unkempt gray locks.

"Hey, Doc Bryant," called out the editor genially. "Turn around and shake hands with Doc Logan. You saw yesterday's paper, I reckon."

"Yeh," grunted the man at the bar. He stared coldly up and down the trim figure of the young physician, making no move to offer his hand. "Humph! Can yuh bleed a horse, young feller? Can yuh drench a cow?"

Taken aback, Logan smiled uncertainly. "Why, I've never tried."

"Perhaps you didn't read the right article, Bryant," suggested Griggsby in a gentle voice. "Dr. Logan isn't calculating on invading your field, but he'll be glad to give you a personal paper whenever you need it."

This irony got by the horse doctor. "Yep, I seen the article all right," he said curtly. Turning his back, he strode his liquor with a snap, and nodded for the exit without another word.

Griggsby's eyes narrowed and began to gleam. Logan laid a conciliatory hand on his arm. Griggsby relaxed and glanced at his watch. "We'll go from one professional extreme to the other," he announced. "I want you to meet the county judge and his wife before it gets too late. Thad Steele is an old-time Texan. Has heart trouble and has to take things easy."

The visit with the Steeles repaid Logan for the rest of the rather nightmarish tour. He learned that there were good women, children and babies, and a better element at work in Gila City—a fact he was beginning to doubt.

It was almost 11 o'clock when they wound up in front of the Texas Tommy.

"This is the last stop," promised the editor. "There's one more man I want you to meet. I've saved him till last. He's expecting us."

"Finest dance hall in town," informed Griggsby. "It's all right to come here because Overstreet doesn't allow any rough stuff."

The rear wall of the gilded and decorated hall was draped with a heavy material that looked like crimson velvet. In this windowless expanse there was a single massive door. Griggsby led the way like a homing pigeon to this barrier.

The door opened, and an olive-skinned giant of a man in a gold-braided maroon suit towered over them.

"Hello, Pierre. This is Dr. Logan. Bob, meet Pierre d'Auberge."

The giant bowed. "How do you do, Dr. Logan. I will inform the master of your arrival."

"Pierre's a Cajun who came here with Overstreet," said Griggsby. "The strongest man I ever saw. Ties knots in horseshoes for exercise."

Logan stared around in frank amazement at this richly-carpeted chamber of lesser extent but greater elegance than the gilded dance hall. Along the right-hand wall was the most exquisite liquor counter and back bar. A single bartender in immaculate white functioned at this shrine to Bacchus while a pair of soft-footed attendants served the various players at the gaming tables scattered about the room.

A sudden bellow of rage from one of the card tables drew their attention. A bull-necked man wearing livid yellow cowboy boots had leaped to his feet, upsetting his chair.

"You're drunk! So that's how you've been cheating me all night. Thought I was too drunk to watch, huh? But I've caught you now with a dead hand up your sleeve."

Instantly the huge Pierre d'Auberge reappeared in the doorway at the end of the liquor bar.

At this moment a glittering object whizzed through the air past Pierre's shoulder and shattered at the base of Bull-neck's skull. The man groaned and lurched across the table.

"Mr. Martin forgot he was in a house of gentlemen," said a cultured baritone voice.

Logan jerked his head around. Just within the casino mumbered, "you have deliberately broken the first law of this house."

The guilty man wilted. "I made a mistake. I won't do it again. I swear—"

"That I know," said his judge, unmoved. He nodded significantly at the huge Cajun.

The crooked gambler cried out in fear as the giant swiftly shifted him about and gripped only his right arm and hand. There was a rapid succession of dull plops, a shriek of agony, and blood spurted from the ends of Holcomb's useless fingers. He fainted dead away.

Pierre quickly carried him out through the doorway to his master's private quarters behind the saloon. The man in gray personally assisted the still befuddled Martin to his feet.

"My deepest apologies for this unpleasant episode, Mr. Martin," he said earnestly.

"Mr. Jenkins," the man in gray went on to another dealer, "take charge of this table and refund Mr. Martin his entire losses. Gentlemen, a round of drinks on the house."

That was all. Business was resumed as usual.

The immaculate owner of the Texas Tommy approached them and held out a slender hand which had a powerful grip despite its soft whiteness. A slow smile now revealed his even, white teeth.

"Dr. Logan? I'm sorry to meet you under these circumstances. How are you tonight, Griggsby?"

There was no trace of the ruthlessness of a moment ago. Overstreet was an amazing individual. Logan shook hands wordlessly.

"What will it be, gentlemen?"

"Whisky sour," Griggsby ordered promptly, hooking one elbow over the bar rail.

Logan shook his head. "I think I've drunk enough and seen enough for one night."

Overstreet nodded politely and signalled the bar man. "Then let us split a bottle of ginger ale and drink to your success, Doctor."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: Burgess Eicholtz has sworn in Charles K. Little, the janitor of the Meade School building, as a special officer who is empowered to make arrests of all persons trespassing on the grounds at that building. This has been made necessary by the bad conduct there at night and upon the complaint of citizens and the Board of Directors.

The dancing floor at Tipton's Park at Round Top has been covered by a new roof instead of the canvas which was formerly used as a protection from the weather.

The winning of the series between Gettysburg and McSherrystown baseball teams at York last Thursday attracted many local sportsmen to the game. On their return the team was met at the station by the Gettysburg band.

While Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Tipton were absent from home last Saturday evening, a pet 'coon broke loose from where he had been tied and in some way or other got into the house where he had lots of fun. When Mr. Tipton came home he found everything helter-skelter. The 'coon had killed a canary and had done damage to furniture.

St. Francis Xavier's Parochial School opened Monday with an enrollment of 141 pupils.

The firm of Weikert and Byers, butchers, has been dissolved. Geo. G. Byers selling out his interest to E. D. Weikert, who became sole owner and by whom the business will hereafter be conducted.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SECOND LIFE PLEASURES

From an article by Sheldon Cheney, in his book "The Story of Modern Art," I came across this interesting statement about the great French artist Renouir. "When he went to the museum he sought out the artists who had painted radiantly, glowingly, voluptuously; he came away praising Valazquez and Giorgione and Titian—and he said that he had lived a second life in the pleasure he experienced from the works of the masters."

I believe I all have had such an experience. I have felt this way time and again after visiting a gallery or library. And I have had the same experience after listening to a great production on the stage, or after having read a great book for the first time.

Talk to a person like John Kieran or Edwin Way Teale, as he unfolds many of the secrets of bird life, and you will live this second life of pleasures from every statement he makes, so deeply is he in love with the beauty and grandeur of Nature.

I sat on a stone at the edge of the lake at my summer retreat and beckoned to a little chipmunk. He seemed unusually tame and friendly, and came within two feet of me. I broke a peanut from its shell and tossed it to him. He fiddled with it for a few seconds, then turned around and came to me again. I thought he was going to eat the peanut, but he didn't. He took it into his mouth and lodged it in his cheek, like the small boy with his hard ball of candy. Then my friend apparently meant to tease me for a while nut in its shell, which I gave him, and this he scampered away with for future hunger!

These second-life pleasures, gathered from most any interesting place, or through some unusual experience, are what salt life, give it zest and sparkle. Listen to the talk of a couple of golf enthusiasts, or a group of expert fishermen, and you will be looking upon those who are unconsciously experiencing their second life in the pleasure of the moment.

Cameras have played a big part in giving to thousands a second life of pleasure. Photography is also one of the most fascinating hobbies anyone can have, because it can give pleasure to so many others.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject, "Tongue or Head." Protected, 1950, by The George Matthew Adams Service

TWO TABLES

The table that is neat and trim. With silver things aglow. And crystal glasses, tall and slim. Is merely decked for show.

'Tis proper that our friends should share. The finest things we own. For that way, when they're sitting there.

Our love for them is shown.

And needless is display.

The tableware is not so fine.

Being used for every day.

What Mrs. Post insists upon.

For manners, we don't use.

Then I may rest my elbows on.

The table if I choose.

But when alone we meet to dine.

And needless is display.

The tableware is not so fine.

Being used for every day.

What Mrs. Post insists upon.

For manners, we don't use.

Then I may rest my elbows on.

The table if I choose.

At home with those I love the most.

I'm happiest to dine.

Then, I can dunk my crust of toast.

If such a wish be mine.

With loving hands the plates to pass.

Contented I can be.

Without the silver things and glass.

We keep for company.

MOBILIZATION TO HIT PUBLIC IN POCKETBOOK

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—The first cautious steps to rearm America indicated today it may be months before consumers are hit anywhere but in the pocketbook.

Curbs on installment buying go into effect next Monday. Higher income taxes probably will start taking a bigger bite out of pay checks October 1. There were signs the wartime lack of some goods would not be duplicated, at least not soon.

In the steel industry, which supplies material for cars, refrigerators, construction, television, etc., the initial government move was toward easing the pinch of President Truman's projected $300,000,000-a-year arms program.

Steel Heads Confer

The government asked the industry to figure out just how much it can expand production capacity, which has just passed the 100,000,000-ton-a-year mark and is at the highest point in history. Industry promised a prompt answer.

Officers of 21 steel companies, big and little, met at the Commerce department yesterday with Secretary Sawyer and William H. Harrison. On leave from the presidency of International Telephone and Telegraph company, Harrison had just been sworn in as boss of the new National Production Authority (NPA). The President set up NPA in the Commerce department to help boost the output of guns, planes and tanks.

A dozen executives of copper companies were called for a similar conference today. Other meetings are on tap with spokesmen for aluminum and other industries.

But the government was just getting organized for the big effort to build up muscle to hit back at Communist aggression in Korea or anywhere else it may break out. It was only last Friday that Mr. Truman signed the home front mobilization bill giving him broad authority to apply controls.

Duff Says He Knows About "Sabotage"

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff says the time has come to make some important distinctions of constitutional rights to guard against "internal enemies of this country."

Duff spoke in a radio address delivered here after he cancelled an appearance at Oil City, where he was to open officially his campaign for election as U. S. Senator. He called off the trip because of the 28th Division train wreck.

"The tragedy of the Pennsylvania troops (yesterday) is merely a symbol of the kind of sacrifice that must be necessary on a vast scale if we are to carry the torch of freedom in today's world," he continued.

MISS AMERICA PLANS CAREER

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—What's next for smiling, blonde, blonde Yolande Betbeze of Mobile, Ala., the girl who reigns in bathing-suit, crown and cape as Miss America 1951?

First she's just going to enjoy being Miss America. Then leaving her immediate future in the hands of the Miss America pageant. "I said that could mean a year of stage, modeling and television contracts totaling about $50,000."

And after that? Miss Betbeze (she pronounces it Bet-bee) wants a career in musical comedy or opera, and the $5,000 scholarship that comes with the Miss America title may further it.

A husband? Not yet. "I haven't had much time for going out," says the beauty queen, who has been studying voice and dancing for six years in addition to language courses given at night by the University of Alabama Extension school. She says there is no special boy friend, and that she doesn't plan to marry for several years.

The 5-foot 5½-inch southern belle who beat 53 competitors to the beauty-and-talent title Saturday neither dunks or smokes. And "I've never been kissed by Governor Big Jim Folsom," the 21-year-old winner told interviewers, despite the fact that she is the first Miss Alabama to become Miss America and has been a receptionist in political campaigns in Mobile.

There are no more at home like "he posed Miss Betbeze, whose 119 pounds include a 35-inch bust, a 24-inch waist, and 35½-inch hips. She is an only child, and lives with her widowed mother, Mrs. Echele Meyer Betbeze.

PASTORS ELECT
REV. REYNOLDS;
PLAN VESPERS

The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church, was elected president of the Littlestown ministerium for the ensuing year at the semi-monthly meeting of the ministerium held Monday morning in St. Paul's Lutheran church. He succeeds Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Other officers are: vice president, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, and secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Charles B. Rebert, a retired reformed minister, who was re-elected to that office.

The retiring president expressed his appreciation for the cooperation extended by the ministers during his term of office, and the new president, upon assuming his chair, asked for a similar cooperation during the coming year.

The ministerium commended the "veterans" organization of Littlestown or undertaking the erection of a permanent memorial for the service men of all wars from Littlestown and vicinity.

The Revs. James and Reynolds reported that it was necessary to change the date of the annual preaching mission so as to be able to secure the Rev. Clyde Meadows, Chambersburg, as guest speaker. He was the unanimous choice of the ministerium. The dates for the mission will be from January 21 to 26. The Rev. Mr. Meadows will speak each night from Monday through Friday in St. Paul's Lutheran church. As the mission will open on Sunday night, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds was appointed to secure a guest minister for the opening service.

Plan Vesper Services

The following schedule of services to be held with the minister responsible or securing the guest minister was adopted: October 8, St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Harvey B. Simons; October 15, St. John's Lutheran church, Rev. Frank E. Reynolds; October 22, Redeemer's Reformed church, Rev. David S. Kammerer; October 29, Centenary Methodist church, Rev. Kenneth D. James.

James; November 26, Centenary Methodist church, Rev. Kammerer; December 1, St. Paul's church, Rev. Reynolds, and December 10, St. John's church, Rev. Simons.

The ministerium adopted a resolution in which it expressed regret at the severance of ministerial ties with the Rev. John C. Brumbach, who will become pastor of St. John's Reformed church, Bangor, Pa., on November 1, and also expressed its best wishes for "abundant success in his new field of labor."

Chorus to Redeemer
The retiring president, Rev. Kammerer, conducted the meeting. The secretary's report and the opening devotions were in charge of the Rev. Mr. Brumbach. The closing devotions were in charge of the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, and the newly elected president assumed his chair and closed the meeting.

The weekly rehearsal of the Littlestown Men's chorus will be held Thursday at 9 p.m., in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Miss Frances I. Brumbach and Miss Helen Macleole, both of Manchester, N. H., spent Monday with the former's brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Brumbach and family, East King street.

Says Delaware Basin
Being 'Shortchanged'

Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP) — New York-New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware are being "shortchanged" by federal projects in other parts of the nation, the Interstate commission on the Delaware river basin was told today.

James H. Allen, Incodel executive secretary, in a speech prepared for delivery at a panel discussion on federal water policies at Incodel's 14th annual meeting said:

"The four states on the Delaware river, attempting courageously to solve their own land and water conservation programs by mutual agreement and expenditures, are at the same time footing an unfair share of the bill for similar projects throughout the nation, most of which are in the west and south. Our people are, frankly, holding the bag while politicians hold the pork barrel."

Allen called on federal agencies to "stop competing wastefully with local and state projects" and to "cease supplying unnecessary and duplicative services in activities which can best be handled at the levels of government which operate with efficiency and promptness."

Emmitsburg
BUSY SESSION
CONDUCTED BY LIONS MONDAY

The Emmitsburg Lions club met Monday evening in the Lutheran Parish house with President Bernard Eckenrode presiding. There were three guests from the Union Bridge club and three from Westminster. John Hollinger, chairman of the Horse Show committee, reported that "encouraging progress" is being made with the show. A great many entries are being received and local and surrounding merchants are subscribing generously in the form of buying advertising space on the bulletins. The entire proceeds of the horse show are to be used by the Emmitsburg Lions club for charity.

One very encouraging feature of the show is that many of the classes are being sponsored by individuals or business firms, he said.

Dr. Easterday, Frederick county medical health officer, spoke of the matter of establishing a speech clinic in the county. This is a tie-in with the public school system. A speech clinic is one of three clinics proposed for the county. A mental hygiene clinic is already set up and operating at Winchester Hall, Frederick. This clinic has been open for the past year each Wednesday. The third clinic being proposed is a reading clinic. About $800 is needed to establish the speech clinic. It is estimated that at least $5,000 worth of service would come to Frederick county through the $600 due to the arrangement with the University of Maryland using its graduate students in the clinic under the direction of Dr. Ramsburg of the university.

PASTORS ELECT

REV. REYNOLDS; PLAN VESPER

The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church, elected president of the Littlestown ministerium for the ensuing year at the semi-monthly meeting of the ministerium held Monday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church. He succeeds Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Other officers are: president, the Rev. Kenneth D. Simons, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, and secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Charles B. Rebert, a retired minister, who was re-elected to that office.

Allen called on federal agencies representing the cooperation of the ministers during his term of office, and the new minister, upon assuming his chair, called for a similar cooperation during the coming year.

The ministerium commended the minister's organization of Littlestown ministerium for the service of a memorial for the service of all wars from Littlestown ministerium.

The Revs. James and Reynolds stated that it was necessary to change the date of the annual meeting mission so as to be able to secure the Rev. Clyde Meadows, of Littlestown, as guest speaker. The dates for the mission will be from January 21 to 25. Rev. Mr. Meadows will speak a night from Monday through Friday in St. Paul's Lutheran church. As the mission will open on Sunday night, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds was appointed to secure a guest minister for the opening service.

Plan Vesper Services
was decided to again conduct a series of union vesper services from October 8 to December 10 inclusive to have guest ministers. The following schedule of services to be given with the minister responsible for securing the guest minister was stated: October 8, St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Harvey B. Lyons; October 15, St. John's Lutheran church, Rev. Frank E. Reynolds; October 22, Redeemer's Reformed church, Rev. David S. Kammerer; October 29, Centenary Methodist church, Rev. Kenneth D. Simons.

On November 5, St. Paul's church (mission day service), Rev. Reynolds; November 12, St. John's church, Rev. Simons; November 19, Redeemer's church, Rev. James; November 26, Centenary Methodist church, Rev. Kammerer; December 3, St. Paul's church, Rev. Reynolds; December 10, St. John's church, Rev. Simons.

The ministerium adopted a resolution in which it expressed regret over the severance of ministerial ties with the Rev. John C. Brumbach, who will become pastor of St. John's Reformed church, Bangor, Pa., on September 1, and also expressed its wishes for "abundant success in new field of labor."

Chorus to Rehearse
The retiring president, Rev. Kammerer, conducted the meeting. The report and the opening of the meeting were in charge of the Rev. Brumbach. The closing devotion was in charge of the Rev. Kammerer, and the newly elected president assumed his chair and led the meeting.

The weekly rehearsal of the Littlestown Men's chorus will be held Thursday at 9 p.m., in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Miss Frances I. Brumbach and Miss Helen Macleod, both of Manchester, N. H., spent Monday with the former's brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Brumbach and family, East King street.

Miss Mary Kay Crouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, 14th Queen street, left today for St. Clouds where she will resume her duties.

About 700 employees of the Windermere Shoe company, Inc., their families and friends attend the 1950 employees' picnic held Saturday at Pipe Creek park, near Taneytown. A picnic luncheon was provided; games, contests and dancing were enjoyed. The Note Busters of Littlestown provided music for the evening. Says Delaware Basin Being 'Shortchanged'

Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP) — New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware are being "shortchanged" by federal projects in other parts of the nation, the Interstate commission on the Delaware river basin was told today.

James H. Allen, Incodell executive secretary, in a speech prepared for delivery at a panel discussion on federal water policies at Incodell's 14th annual meeting said:

"The four states on the Delaware river, attempting courageously to solve their own land and water conservation programs by mutual agreement and expenditures, are at the same time footing an unfair share of the bill for similar projects throughout the nation, most of which are in the west and south. Our people are, frankly, holding the bag while politicians hold the pork barrel."

Allen called on federal agencies to "stop competing wastefully with local and state projects" and to "cease supplying unnecessary and duplicative services in activities which can best be handled at the levels of government which operate with efficiency and promptness."
